

QUEST CLUB ORIENTATION

WELCOME TO QUEST

The sole purpose of Quest Club shall be to provide a forum for club members to prepare, present and discuss research papers on social, economic, scientific, cultural, political and historical topics.

A History

The birth of Quest Club occurred quietly on an autumn evening late in 1911, when three businessmen gathered at the home of Edward H. Merritt on Woodland Avenue. Merritt, co-founder of the Trade Mark Title Company, was joined by Charlie Fitch, an insurance agent and former manager of the Jenney Electric Company, and Enos Wesley Puckett, president of Fort Wayne Oil and Supply Company.

You're joining a great organization. Here is some information to help you get established.

1. A History of Quest Club at 100 Years by Member John Beatty, for a look into the deep history of your Club.
2. A Quest Club Fact Sheet with the basics about Club activities.
3. A Quest Club Directory Information Sheet to return by email to admin@fwquestclub.org. This information will be used to list your contact information in the member directory. Please include a color photograph.
4. A Copyright and Digitizing Agreement to establish your ownership rights to the papers you will write and present, and allows the Club to make them available on our website. Please sign, scan and return by email.
5. A Quest Paper Checklist for when you present.
6. Invocation Guidelines for when you take a turn at the podium.

Contact President Fred Hasecke or Executive Director Mark Rudolph with any and all questions.

Onward!
